NEWS LETTER FROM STATE DEPARTMENTS

COLUMBUS—The annual report of Secretary of State Clarence J. Brown, just off the press, is complete in one volume of 1,300 pages, the largest ever issued by the state department. It comprises election, motor vehicle, corporation, judicial and the social statistics of the eighty-eight counties of Ohio, population by districts and townships and municipal roster, making a most desirable book for reference libraries.

Newspaper men from over the state are having their inning in the Capital City this week and Thursday evening a banquet of splendid appointments will be served them in one of the city's leading hotels. Wives and sweethearts may participate. Orators with national reputations are on the program and the event will not only be enjoyable but most instructive. Three organizations will participate, the Ohio Newspaper and Buckeye Associations and Associated Ohio Daily.

Misses Mary and Charlotte White, daughters of Ohio's chief executive, Governor George White, are recovering from injuries sustained several days ago in an auto accident in the Capital City when their machine collided with another. This is the third mishap of a like nature in the White family the past several months, the Governor himself participating in the other two. He is now seeking a means of ridding himself of the jinx and keeping his eyes peeled for a first-class certified mascot.

The flag on the state house dome is flying at half mast due to the recent death of Judge James E. Robinson, serving his third term as a member of the Supreme Court of Ohio. He was first elected in 1918, re-elected in 1924 and 1930. He was first elected in 1918, and 1930. He was a native of Union county, having been born at Marysville, 63 years ago, serving two terms as county prosecutor and in 1915 was appointed a judge of the court of appeals by Governor Frank B. Willis, to fill an unexpired term. His passing will leave a vacancy to be filled by Governor George White and he has named Judge Stephenson of Adams county.

H. G. Southard, M. D., Director of the State Department of Health, reports that the number of mishaps due to carbon monoxide gas, has taken a decided tumble from the height maintained in former years, the past six months only fourteen being reported, seven of which were fatal. Carbon monoxide is just as poisonous as ever, and in cases of carelessness or accident will cause death just as quickly. Vigilance and watchfulness in the proper installation and operation of gas appliances are necessary in order to prevent such mishaps.

The Industrial Commission of Ohio reports that four counties in the state, Carroll, Defiance, Fulton and Vinton had no fatalities during the last eleven months of 1931. Figures in the Division of Safety and Hygiene shows that accidents have been reduced to an extent sufficient to indicate that Ohio industry as a whole has had its safety agencies functioning well in spite of unusual and depressing conditions. Records show that during no one year in its history, has the demand for safety and service and the aid of its facilities been so great. The new year finds Ohio employers and workers eager to expand and stimulate their safety efforts.

SCHOOL NEWS

OPERAETTA

The music students of Cedarville High School will present "Pickles", or "In Old Vienna", a musical comedy at the Cedarville opera house, Tuesday evening, February 9, at 8:30 P. M.

PROF. C. W. STEELE SPEAKS TO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Professor C. W. Steele, dean of Cedarville College, who spoke to the high school students Monday morning, centered his thoughts around the sentence: "What I will be, I am now becoming." The speaker delightfully entertained his audience by relating a number of his interesting experiences. He drew a contrast between the lives of young men, whom he had known, and who had made either a success or a failure of life according to decisions made early in life. Many students were benefited by this very appropriate address.

The preceding devotional program, presented by the senior class and announced by Esther Waddle, consisted of the following: Scripture reading, Wilma Coffman; Lord's Prayer, entire group; piano duet, Carma Hostetter and Isadore Owens; reading, Wanda Turnbull; saxophone solo, Isadore Owens, accompanied by Marjorie Strobbridge.

MANY STUDENTS ARE ILL

A great number of the students of the high school and grades are ill. Although there have been no new quarantines for scarlet fever, according to Dr. Grube there are several suspected cases. Much of the absence is due to an epidemic of colds and flu.

OPERAETTA CONTINUED

Tuesday evening February 9, "Hans" and his Viennese people will welcome all patrons and friends of Cedarville High School, in fact, every American who would like to go. If you procure your passport (which you can get for twenty or thirty-five cents) some time between "now" and "eight o'clock Tuesday evening," you will have an opportunity to see and meet these fine folks of Vienna. So get your passport early and avoid the rush.

STAGE FURNITURE PURCHASED

At a recent faculty meeting, it was agreed to spend a part of the proceeds from this year's cafeteria supper to buy furniture for the stage. Accordingly, a five piece suit has been purchased and delivered at the school house. For some time a plan has been in progress to equip the stage of our auditorium. It is planned to purchase a new curtain, but this will not be done until the auditorium has been decorated. During the time that the newly purchased furniture is not needed for stage furnishing, it will be kept in the teachers' rest room on the second floor.

FIFTH GRADE DEBATE

As a part of the English work, the pupils of the fifth grade debated, Friday afternoon, on the question: Resolved, that athletics in the high school should be abolished.

On the affirmative team were Ruth Copeland, Marcella Martindale and Harold Cooley, while Montgomery West, James Deck and Paul Wiscup upheld the negative.

These young folks did exceptionally well in presenting their arguments for and against this subject.

The judges decided the outcome of the debate a tie. Visitors who acted as judges were Mrs. Margaret Ross, her sister Mrs. Staley and Mrs. Oma Deck.

Before one of the largest crowds of this season, Cedarville and Ross each won and lost a basketball game, Thursday night.

In the preliminary, the C. H. S. girls maintained a comfortable lead from the first, to win the game 32 to 19.

In the main fray of the evening, Ross boys proved too tall for our boys to guard effectively. Every Red and White boy played well but was unable to stop Ross's offense. The final score was 35 to 19.

C. H. S. vs. Beavercreek at Beavercreek, February 6.

DEPRESSION HAS NO EFFECT ON KITCHEN COOKS FOR SHERIFF

Previous to the advent of the depression taxpayers were called on to pay only $11 a week, or $44 month for a cook at the "Hotel de Bad Men".

Boards at such a hotel must of course have the heat and no $44 a month cook is good enough, so it costs $40 a week, or $160 a month now for a good cook.

Three and one half cent hogs and twenty-five cent corn makes it easy to pay the bill. Anyhow why should a county hold money when money was made to spend?

The night was foggy and driving dangerous which accounted for the accident when he drove into the rear of a truck parked along the side of the road without lights. It is said the truck had been on the road for at least twenty-four hours.

Walker was taken to the McClellan Hospital where it was found he suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, between the knee and hip. In addition he had several scalp lacerations and body bruises.

"CHARACTER FORMING ELEMENTS OF CEDARVILLE COLLEGE DAYS"

James McMaster McQuilken, D. D., '98, Carnegie, Penn.

College days usually constitute a character testing of a character forming epoch in the life of the student.

After more than thirty years I am deeply appreciative of the contribution to character made by Cedarville College and Community. I remember with increasing esteem the wholesome and restraining influence of the splendidly Christian faculty I found at Cedarville. Every student admires with a near reverence one or more of his faculty and such an attachment is likely to make an ineffaceable impression which in after years affects morals and religion and one's whole perspective of life.

Thirty-five years ago the student body was preponderantly Christian, sincere, purposeful and earnest. It was worth while to be a part of such a student body. There were a few black sheep and a few slightly spotted but the great majority were upstanding and wholesome in their thinking, living and purposes. Fortunately is the student who contacts such a group of young men and women at the student age in his career.

Thirty-five years ago Cedarville offered a church life that was a real opportunity to students. Pastors, some of whom were venerable and saintly and sincere, commanded the respect and had the confidence of youth. Strong characters are formed in the environment of such a harmonious blending of religion and scholarship as Cedarville College and Community afforded.

The writer entered Cedarville College in the second year of her existence with the well established purpose of being a minister. During the college days nothing was encountered to change that purpose or lower the mental standard of the chosen profession. After thirty years of hard service and great and gracious opportunities for service in which character has been continuously tested I wish to bear testimony to my appreciation of a college that offers extra curricular advantages by way of character forming influences in college halls and community. Such a college is Cedarville. Long may her banner float and her sons and daughters be loyal.

BOY SCOUTS TO OBSERVE 22ND ANNIVERSARY

One of the most entertaining Boy Scout programs will be staged at the Central High School gymnasium, in Xenia, at 8 P. M., February 8th. This program will celebrate the 22nd anniversary of the Boy Scouts in America and is free to all who want to enjoy a good Boy Scout program.

Scouting was introduced in the United States from England by Wm. D. Boyce, American Publisher, February 8, 1909. Mr. Boyce was so impressed with the "Good turn" element of scouting and other practical principles which are taught the scouts, that they may get the deepest meaning in life and training to finer citizenship, that he made plans to introduce Boy Scouting in America on his arrival home.

There will be a dramatization of the "good turn" so characteristic of scouting, in the form of a pageant "The Romance of Scouting", with eight other attractive events that will make the program worth coming a great distance to enjoy. The practical application of the oath and laws in the inner life of the boy has been an inducement for a number of men in Greene County to lend their aid in promoting the Boy Scout movement of this county.

The appointment of Odgen Mill as Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Andrew Mellon, who has served in that capacity for eleven years, has been announced by President Hoover. Mr. Mills has been under secretary of the treasury for a number of years. He is an uncle of Odgen Mills Reid, son of the late Whitelaw Reid, who visited Cedarville last June.

NO SPECIAL SESSION IN SIGHT AT PRESENT

Representatives of various organizations in a number of cities in Ohio recently called on Governor White to urge a special session of the legislature to provide more funds for "relief of the poor and unemployed". During the past few months the Chief Executive has been appealed too to call an extra session to provide more public funds for various purposes but each time he has declined. The Governor told the group the other day that they must first exhaust every available means to care for needed relief. Of course public funds for any purpose cannot be secured without a bond issue or tax increase, or both.

One of the most expensive pieces of state government is the state legislature. A special session for a week would cost many thousands of dollars. To place additional tax burdens on the property owners of the state as a whole, or even a municipality, is unwarranted at this time. The demand comes from politicians for there has been no uprising on the part of the citizens of any city, demanding such relief. This point evidently has been taken into consideration by the governor. The cities have made little or no plans for reduced cost of government and here is where those appealing for financial aid can get relief. It is within the power of any city to make some reductions and this saving can be applied for relief purposes.

That most cities are facing unusual demand for aid there is no question but when most city budgets are examined there is thousands of dollars available. Every city is overloaded with a thousand and one inspectors, most of whom are nothing but a cog in some political machine. There are inspectors for meat, milk, plumbing, electrical, and scores of others that might be mentioned, anyone of which could be dropped without doing great injury to the safety or health of the city. The inspection business in not only cities but the state has become a public pest and a constant drain on the public purse.

Again many cities the past few years have directly invited people from distant points to become residents to keep up the growth of population. City boundary lines were extended to drag people and property into the city. That was in the days when money grew on bushes. The value of the property to be taken in was not an issue or was it the character of the people, numbers for increased population was uppermost in the minds of officials and many civic organizations. As a result much undesirable citizenship was taken into the city fold. Now it is a problem to feed these people and keep them warm.

The action of Governor White in thus far refusing to call the legislature in action is commendable, especially when the city group urged a bond issue to be paid by a special state tax on every citizen or property owner. The governor's decision of course may not be pleasing to city politicians but his denial of a special session has not offended the manufacturer, home or farm owner.

DEMANDS CUT ON COMMISSIONS

The United States Chamber of Commerce has taken a definite stand in regard to federal government expenditures. The Chamber is supported by the large and small manufacturers and financial institutions in the country. It wields a wonderful power when set in motion. Industry in the United States is about on par with the agricultural situation. The federal government, instead of doing more than talking about reduced cost has actually increased the cost the past year. It is even now suggested by Secretary Mellon of the Treasury, that income taxes be increased, right at a time when the country is least able to stand additional burden. The Chamber of Commerce has urged that federal expenditures be reduced $500,000,000 this year. In commenting on this subject the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

The committee asserts that, outside of the service of the debt, trust fund and other fixed charges, there are expenditures of two billions of dollars or more annually which may be radically reduced without impairing the efficiency of the Government or otherwise affecting it except to withdraw it from activities originally conceived to pertain to the states alone.

"The committee points out, specifically, where and how reductions can and should be made. The Government spent its way into a deficit; it can emerge only by economy and sound fiscal methods. Even in prosperous times these expenditures were growing much more rapidly than the national income. The half billion dollars of annual increase in public expenditures which has occurred in recent years must be eliminated.

"Chairman Sloan is of the opinion, also, that it will not be sufficient for Congress merely to trim appropriations for the present emergency should be required to 'suspend or discontinue' many activities and functions that have been written into law. He points to the fact that high taxes are due to large expenditures by government; that these expenditures now are estimated to be between thirteen and fourteen billion dollars annually, an increase since the war of about 360 per cent for the Federal Government, 285 per cent for the states and 200 per cent for local units.

"The committee proposes the elimination, so far as possible of 42 commissions and other independent establishments the cost of which exceeds one billion three hundred million dollars a year. It pleads for concentration and coordination of government activities, pleads for the interests of the taxpayer.

"The time has come when men in authority are talking 'cold turkey.' The time has arrived when crushed taxpayers and burdened business demand a relief that can be afforded by their Government. The time has come when Federal aid to the states requiring an equal matching of expenditures should be curtailed, at least until the country again is on its feet financially and industrially."

The conquest Japan is making in China comes home to Americans, who have been appealing to nations of the world, for peace. At present the Peace Conference is in session but at the same time war is raging in China. Not likely we will hear of much accomplished along the lines of peace between the nations for the future. It is claimed Japan has been preparing for this conquest for several years and yet has been having a part in the negotiations for peace. Following the World War we sold France millions of dollars worth of ammunition at a very low price. Later France sold part of her purchase to Japan.

The United States and England are in accord and have issued an ultimatum to Japan and China to "cut out the money business". As Japan is in Chinese territory it is not likely the Chinese will withdraw troops until Japan acts first. If neither country or both ignore the U. S.-England demand, there may be more action. The manufacturers of war materials look on the situation hopeful that the combat continues and the stock of one of our latest explosive manufacturers on the New York Stock Exchange has taken a sudden leap to higher levels. One of the weak points of international law is that in peace time this and other countries can ship war supplies to any country. Preparations for war always precede the declaration of war many months. The war supplies are purchased early and war declared afterwards. Meantime we talk about peace, a subject that sounds good to most people.

A well-posted Columbus business man, who makes frequent trips to New York City and is in close touch with big business, stated to the writer several months ago, that you can always depend on the success or failure of any plan proposed by the government to cure the depression by the reaction of the stock market. The proposed Reconstruction Finance Corporation and allied measures, to put banks in better position, and aid the weaker institutions to check bank failures, had no effect on Wall Street. Stocks went down instead of up as many investors hoped. The plan was a failure for the good banks failed to give it support and the corporation is now a dead letter. Other plans have been proposed, most of which are for the purpose of aiding Wall Street bankers. Smaller banks and building and loan associations will have little chance. If we read the stock market right today, investors must not yet be satisfied with any or all of the proposals for stocks are showing little signs of increasing in price. Meantime most corporations are forced to reduce dividends. This means less money to be put in circulation. "Lifting yourself by your own bootstraps" looks possible, but never has been accomplished. Back in the nineties during the Cleveland administration a cure-all for the panic was a government bond issue. For a time things looked brighter but the balloon burst and then we had four long years of "watching waiting for prosperity". Thrift, economy, reduced expenditures, public and private with confidence will overcome the depression. A bad credit situation is never cured with more credit.

Railway labor from section hand to engineer, takes a 10 per cent cut in wages, saving $215,000,000 for the railroads. For several days labor leaders and rail executives were in conference with the above result. The agreement is for one year. It is said that 700,000 employees are out now and 900,000 on part time. With lower freight and passenger rates the rail companies can build up more business and overcome the bus and truck competition. Lower freight rates will be an aid to grain and live stock growers as well as to manufacturers. The great chain store corporations in this country have built their business on small profits, quick turn-over and a large volume of business. Evidently this a lesson the railroads have yet to learn.

February 2nd was a bad day for Mr. Groundhog and the adage about seeing his shadow. There was no sun and hardly a faint tint of bright sky during the day, which would indicate the early advent of spring. So far as weather was concerned Mr. Groundhog has had little need of holding to winter quarters and probably he has been out of doors much of the time. Sunday morning was the coldest of the year, ten above being reported in some sections, with higher temperature the day following.

A former Greene Countyman, Horace H. Smith, son of Attorney and Mrs. Harry D. Smith, Xenia, is U. S. Vice Consul in China, but is some two hundred miles from Shanghai, the seat of the Japanese and China war that is being waged in China. According to H. Smith, son of Attorney and Mrs. Smith, ed than ever, their own country for many years being divided among warring tribes. Life at Canton, where Mr. Smith and daughter are located, is reported quiet.

Valentines are now on display and leap-year suggestions are in the fore.

Striking color combinations with a-luring verses may be the means of more than one couple asking for a marriage license in Ohio rather than a marriage certificate from some Justice Court in Kentucky. Some of our young rich bachelors evidently are on the line—waiting. At least they do not seem to be making advances towards a home for two.

Think of the thrill that would follow if some bright young miss would send Colin B. a valentine with a natty little verse: "Let's travel together all ways."

Or one to Ralph W. reading: "It strikes me that we would be a perfect match."

Or to Frank O.: "I'd sure like to be handcuffed to you for life."

Or to Ralph M.: "To the only man."

Or: Warren B.: "Gee, but I could warm up to you."

Or Howard H.: "It's you, just you, I'm needing."

Or Charles S.: "Can't we go sailing through life together?"

Warren J. Keifer, Springfield, the only living ex-speaker of Congress, during the 47th session, celebrated his 97th birthday anniversary Saturday last at his home in that city. Gen. Keifer has lived under all except six presidents and all but 11 of the 49 governors of Ohio. He has been recognized as a leading attorney but for the past few years has been retired. One of the noticeable characteristics of the General was that he always wore "full dress" even during business hours.

Cincinnati has outlined a plan as to how the famous zoological garden can be saved. It long has been one of the city's proudest attractions. For several years the zoo has been a financial failure and the loss has been paid by two wealthy women in that city. Both are dead now and the zoo was to be placed on the market. Citizens wanted it kept intact and urged council to purchase the garden at a price of $325,000, and to contributed $30,000 a year towards upkeep. An association of prominent citizens will have charge of the management. The annual summer grand opera will be continued, which will be good news to the music lovers in Southern Ohio.

Harness racing fans in this section of Ohio will be interested in the announcement that the Short Ship Racing circuit has arranged for dates to start probably May 24 at Wilmington and closing on July 28 at Marion. The barrier system will be used for starting at all races. The question of legal form sheets, handicaps, dashes and race speculation were deferred to another conference to be held in Cleveland, Feb. 17.

One of the old line insurance companies has issued a statement of the number of dead and injured during the past year, due to automobiles. The report reads much as if some army in the war overseas had made a report of the dead and wounded. When we hear that one million, thirty-two thousand men, women and children were killed or injured last year by automobiles, then it is that we think in terms of the disaster of war. Of that number 34,400 met death, the largest in the history of the automobile. While the report of deaths is relatively complete and accurate the number of injured no doubt is greater due to the fact that many accidents are never reported. There were 14,500 pedestrians killed in the streets or on highways. The increase in the number of fatalities over the previous year was 3.3 per cent, measured against a decrease of 2 per cent in the registration of machines. Too much speed is given as the cause of most of the accidents. Few probably have any knowledge of how many autos leave the highway and 60,836 cases are reported resulting in the death of 6390 persons. In the list we find that 1700 children playing in the street lost their lives and 49,140 were injured.

NO SPECIAL SESSION IN SIGHT AT PRESENT

Representatives of various organizations in a number of cities in Ohio recently called on Governor White to urge a special session of the legislature to provide more funds for "relief of the poor and unemployed". During the past few months the Chief Executive has been appealed too to call an extra session to provide more public funds for various purposes but each time he has declined. The Governor told the group the other day that they must first exhaust every available means to care for needed relief. Of course public funds for any purpose cannot be secured without a bond issue or tax increase, or both.

One of the most expensive pieces of state government is the state legislature. A special session for a week would cost many thousands of dollars. To place additional tax burdens on the property owners of the state as a whole, or even a municipality, is unwarranted at this time. The demand comes from politicians for there has been no uprising on the part of the citizens of any city, demanding such relief. This point evidently has been taken into consideration by the governor. The cities have made little or no plans for reduced cost of government and here is where those appealing for financial aid can get relief. It is within the power of any city to make some reductions and this saving can be applied for relief purposes.

That most cities are facing unusual demand for aid there is no question but when most city budgets are examined there are thousands of dollars available. Every city is overloaded with a thousand and one inspectors, most of whom are nothing but a cog in some political machine. There are inspectors for meat, milk, plumbing, electrical, and scores of others that might be mentioned, anyone of which could be dropped without doing great injury to the safety or health of the city. The inspection business in not only cities but the state has become a public pest and a constant drain on the public purse.

Again many cities the past few years have directly invited people from distant points to become residents to keep up the growth of population. City boundary lines were extended to drag people and property into the city. That was in the days when money grew on bushes. The value of the property to be taken in was not an issue or was it the character of the people, numbers for increased population was uppermost in the minds of officials and many civic organizations. As a result much undesirable citizenship was taken into the city fold. Now it is a problem to feed these people and keep them warm.

The action of Governor White in thus far refusing to call the legislature in action is commendable, especially when the city group urged a bond issue to be paid by a special state tax on every citizen or property owner. The governor's decision of course may not be pleasing to city politicians but his denial of a special session has not offended the manufacturer, home or farm owner.

DEMANDS CUT ON COMMISSIONS

The United States Chamber of Commerce has taken a definite stand in regard to federal government expenditures. The Chamber is supported by the large and small manufacturers and financial institutions in the country. It wields a wonderful power when set in motion. Industry in the United States is about on par with the agricultural situation. The federal government, instead of doing more than talking about reduced cost has actually increased the cost the past year. It is even now suggested by Secretary Mellon of the Treasury, that income taxes be increased, right at a time when the country is least able to stand additional burden. The Chamber of Commerce has urged that federal expenditures be reduced $500,000,000 this year. In commenting on this subject the Cincinnati Enquirer says:

The committee asserts that, outside of the service of the debt, trust fund and other fixed charges, there are expenditures of two billions of dollars or more annually which may be radically reduced without impairing the efficiency of the Government or otherwise affecting it except to withdraw it from activities originally conceived to pertain to the states alone.

"The committee points out, specifically, where and how reductions can and should be made. The Government spent its way into a deficit; it can emerge only by economy and sound fiscal methods. Even in prosperous times these expenditures were growing much more rapidly than the national income. The half billion dollars of annual increase in public expenditures which has occurred in recent years must be eliminated."

"Chairman Sloan is of the opinion, also that it will not be sufficient for Congress merely to trim appropriations for the present emergency should be required to 'suspend or discontinue' many activities and functions that have been written into law. He points to the fact that high taxes are due to large expenditures by government; that these expenditures now are estimated to be between thirteen and fourteen billion dollars annually, an increase since the war of about 360 per cent for the Federal Government, 285 per cent for the states and 200 per cent for local units."

"The committee proposes the elimination, so far as possible of 42 commissions and other independent establishments the cost of which exceeds one billion three hundred million dollars a year. It pleads for concentration and coordination of government activities, pleads for the interests of the taxpayer."

"The time has come when men in authority are talking 'cold turkey.' The time has arrived when crushed taxpayers and burdened business demand a relief that can be afforded by their Government. The time has come when Federal aid to the states requiring an equal matching of expenditures should be curtailed, at least until the country again is on its feet financially and industrially."

The conquest Japan is making in China comes home to Americans, who have been appealing to nations of the world, for peace. At present the Peace Conference is in session but at the same time war is raging in China. Not likely we will hear of much accomplished along the lines of peace between the nations for the future. It is claimed Japan has been preparing for this conquest for several years and yet has been having a part in the negotiations for peace. Following the World War we sold France millions of dollars worth of ammunition at a very low price. Later France sold part of her purchase to Japan.

The United States and England are in accord and have issued an ultimatum to Japan and China to "cut out the monkey business". As Japan is in Chinese territory it is not likely the Chinese will withdraw troops until Japan acts first. If neither country or both ignore the U. S.-England demand, there may be more action. The manufacturers of war materials look on the situation hopeful that the combat continues and the stock of one of our largest explosive manufacturers on the New York Stock Exchange has taken a sudden leap to higher levels. One of the weak points of international law is that in peace time this and other countries can ship war supplies to any country. Preparations for war always precede the declaration of war many months. The war supplies are purchased early and war declared afterwards. Meantime we talk about peace, a subject that sounds good to most people.

A well-posted Columbus business man, who makes frequent trips to New York City and is in close touch with big business, stated to the writer several months ago, that you can always depend on the success or failure of any plan proposed by the government to cure the depression by the reaction of the stock market. The proposed Reconstruction Finance Corporation and allied measures, to put banks in better position, and aid the weaker institutions to check bank failures, had no effect on Wall Street. Stocks went down instead of up as many investors hoped. The plan was a failure for the good banks failed to give it support and the corporation is now a dead letter. Other plans have been proposed, most of which are for the purpose of aiding Wall Street bankers. Smaller banks and building and loan associations will have little chance. If we read the stock market right today, investors must not yet be satisfied with any or all of the proposals for stocks are showing little signs of increasing in price. Meantime most corporations are forced to reduce dividends. This means less money to be put in circulation. "Lifting yourself by your own bootstraps" looks possible, but never has been accomplished. Back in the nineties during the Cleveland administration a cure-all for the panic was a government bond issue. For a time things looked brighter but the balloon burst and then we had four long years of "watching waiting for prosperity". Thrift, economy, reduced expenditures, public and private with confidence will overcome the depression. A bad credit situation is never cured with more credit.

Railway labor from section hand to engineer, takes a 10 per cent cut in wages, saving $215,000,000 for the railroads. For several days labor leaders and rail executives were in conference with the above result. The agreement is for one year. It is said that 700,000 employees are out now and 600,000 on part time. With lower freight and passenger rates the rail companies can build up more business and overcome the bus and truck competition. Lower freight rates will be an aid to grain and live stock growers as well as to manufacturers. The great chain store corporations in this country have built their business on small profits, quick turn-over and a large volume of business. Evidently this a lesson the railroads have yet to learn.

Community Building

Essentials That Go to Make Home Attractive

There is no single institution which is of greater importance to the individual and to the community than the home. The home is a success or a failure for numerous reasons. The most important factors which make for the greatest success in home development relate directly to the "atmosphere" which is radiated by the personalities of those who occupy the home and by the atmosphere which is evidenced in the physical features of the home surroundings.

The home is an outstanding feature in community development. It must be attractive or the community suffers proportionately and the happiness of those who occupy the home is greatly decreased. The community is interested in the development of the small home because the greater percentage of population own homes is living in houses constructed upon the smaller lots ranging from 40 to 50 feet in frontage by 125 to 150 feet in depth to the larger lot ranging from 50 to 75 feet in frontage by 150 to 175 feet in depth.

Two elements which add rigidity to the attractiveness of the home are those of excellent architectural composition and landscape architectural composition. A house, to be attractive, must have the proportions of good architecture; it must be well painted and carefully maintained. The remainder of the lot, including all of the open area surrounding the house and the garage, must have the elements of good landscape composition created through the intelligent use of plant materials and features of garden architecture, and it must be carefully maintained.

Stinting Use of Paint

It is an open secret that most folks paint their houses for the sake of appearance. This can never be condemned. It is a fact that many of our choicest neighborhoods owe their attractiveness to pride of ownership.

But there has always been a danger here, and probably there always will be. The trouble is, people are prone to paint when times are good and then let their places go to rack and ruin when times are otherwise. As a matter of fact, a temporary business depression should serve as a national "all to paint." For, of all times, this is when the expense due to the most costly repairs that inevitably follow neglect should be eliminated. Not only that, the psychological value of clean, brightly painted property, with its suggestiveness of prosperity and good cheer, should never be disregarded.—Detroit Free Press.

Protecting Highways

Highways are intended for legitimate use, and not for misuse. This applies especially to highways that have been constructed at public expense and intended, primarily, for public use, and not to serve purposes for which they frequently are used.

It is not an uncommon occurrence for improved roadways to be greatly damaged through uses for which they were not constructed and for which they are not maintained, costing the public very considerable sums of money. The far greater number of people use the highways as they should be used, and subject them only to ordinary wear and tear. Those who use them otherwise should be made to pay for the damages they cause, or better still, they should not be permitted to use the highways for other than regular and ordinary purposes.—Florida Times Union.

FOR THE GOOSE—

LEADERSHIP is easier to follow than to give. But advice is easier to give than to follow.

Not even a correspondence course in will power can help you get chickens out of the unaided eggs.

Suppose the cuckoos in all the cuckoo clocks in the country was to strike for an eight-hour day?

FOR THE GANDER—

Don't expect a woman to enjoy a practical joke. If it's on somebody else she'll be too tender hearted. And if it's on herself she'll be too vain.

There's three traits you can always count on discovering in back of everything a woman does. The first is vanity. So is the other two.

If women had less vanity they'd be more like men. That is if they had more conceit.

Household Friends

--and what they mean to YOU.

A modern home demands modern methods.... That's why ELECTRICITY AND GAS always are welcomed and accepted as friends in the homes of this community. They have demonstrated, by being tested, that they may be depended upon for SERVICE.

Reflect, for a moment, on how household responsibilities were met before ELECTRICITY AND GAS came into general use. Cooking, Heating, Lighting and, in short everything done around the home represented HARD WORK.

Use of Electricity and Gas Affords You much more Leisure... and the cost is very small, however used.

Electricity and Gas not only are friends; they are Servants. The furnace, the kitchen range and the lights in your home testify to this fact. Hot Water, once a luxury, is continuously possible.

When these two household friends are in your home, old-fashioned drudgery is gone forever.

TRICKS of MAGIC EXPLAINED BY WILLIAM LINDHORST

HOW TO PICK UP FIVE BRICKS WITH ONE HAND

Get five bricks and ask any person in your audience to lift the bricks with one hand. If nobody succeeds, you do the trick in this manner. Stand one brick lengthwise with the narrow side up, and above this place two more, standing them crosswise, one on each end of the lower brick. Place the remaining two on top, crosswise to the middle bricks, and one near each end. You then have an opening in the center large enough through which to reach your hand and grasp the bottom brick, thereby making it possible to lift all five with one hand. This can truly be called a Sampson trick.

YOUR COUNTRY needs you too—

BE ALERT BE CAREFUL

With the nation preparing to observe the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington, the A. A. A. Safety Poster for February carries a timely message, according to N. N. Hunter, President of the Greene County Automobile Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Hunter said that the poster, which is now being distributed to the schools in the territory of the Greene County Automobile Club, depicts George Washington with his arm thrown around a typical American youngster. "Your country needs you too—be alert—be careful," is the message to the school children of the nation.

The A. A. A. Club executive said that with plans already underway for honoring George Washington throughout 1932, the February poster will have a distinct safety appeal for the school children of the nation.

"Millions of children," said Mr. Hunter, "are now taught the rudiments of safety through the monthly A. A. A. posters. These safety lessons, together with the protection offered to youngsters by a vast army of schoolboy patrolmen are largely responsible for the steady decrease in child fatalities as compared to an increase in those involving adults."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(© 1932, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for February 7 THE SLAVERY OF SIN (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

LESSON TEXT—John 8:11-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus Tells Us How to Be Free.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Makes Us Free.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Fight for Freedom.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Slavery or Freedom?

We are living in a day of boasted freedom. Revolt from authority is almost universal. Anarchy lifts up its vicious head in the home, society, business, state, nation, and the world. It is this spirit which is revolting against the Eighteenth amendment under the pretext of liberty and freedom. Sin which is fundamentally and essentially lawlessness (I John 3:4) is back of all violations of the Eighteenth amendment. The vital truth of this lesson is the only solution of the prohibition question.

1. Discipleship and Freedom (vv. 31, 32).
Violators of the Eighteenth amendment are not true disciples of Christ. Some church men may be against this law, but not true disciples. In these verses Jesus indicates the following stages of discipleship:

1. Believe on Jesus (v. 31). This means not only assent to Christ's teaching, but acknowledgment of his authority. It means to give Christ the place of lordship over the life. All who allow Christ to rule their lives are in sympathetic obedience to the national constitution.
2. Continue in Christ's words (v. 31). To continue in his word means:
  - a. Meditation upon it.
  - b. Confidence in it.
  - c. Prayer over it.
  - d. Obedience to it.

The teachings of Jesus Christ constitute the standard of life for every true disciple. His words are adequate for every decision, habit, or duty. The word of God is the sole and adequate rule of authority to the Christian. Indulgence in intoxicating liquor is prohibited by God's Word, even to the extent that drunkards are debarré from heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

3. Assurance (v. 31). "Ye are my disciples indeed." Continuance in Christ's words demonstrates the fact of discipleship.

4. Knowledge of the truth (v. 32). Those who obey Christ enter upon higher knowledge. They have an experiential knowledge. Demands made by God's Word are not always apprehended at the first, but those who continue in the ways of obedience come to know God and see that what he demands was right (John 13:7).

5. Freedom (v. 32). The one who renders implicit obedience to Christ enters upon real freedom (Romans 8:2).

6. Righteousness and Freedom (vv. 33, 34).
Those who practice sin are in slavery. The evil does is under the mastery of the Devil; "whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin." Doctor Pierson says that the sinner's slavery is threefold:

1. Slavery to guilt.
  2. Slavery to penalty or judgment.
  3. Slavery to power or habit.
- A little thought shows the abjectness of this slavery. Consciousness of guilt is universal. All know that judgment is coming. In the sober moments of life all men acknowledge coming judgment and have "a certain fearful looking for of judgment." All know that they are helpless to break their habits of wrongdoing. Freedom is possible only in conformity with the divine will.

7. Sonship and Freedom (vv. 35, 36).
Regeneration is necessary in order to obtain freedom from sin. Sin's power must be broken through the salvation of the individual. The works of the Devil can only be destroyed through the regeneration of the individual. Happily Christ can destroy the Devil's works through the sonship of those who believe on him (I John 3:7-9). The only way to secure sobriety on the part of man is to get him saved through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. The Eighteenth amendment can no more make a nation sober than the ten commandments can make a man tell the truth and desist from murder. The only way to get the benefit of the Eighteenth amendment is to have a revival. It is in securing the sinner's freedom by bringing him as a child into the family of God. So long as people are ignorant of Christ they will remain in bondage to sin. Sin is a hard taskmaster and has as its end death (Romans 6:23).

Amazing Airplane Bombers Seen For First Time In "HELL DIVERS"

The first talking picture to feature the newest and most sensational type of navy air craft, the fighting-diving bombers, is "Hell Divers," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayers vivid drama of the air which will come to the Regent Theatre, Springfield for one week starting Saturday, February 6th with Wallace Beery and Clark Gable in co-starring roles.

The title of the picture is the same as the Navy nick-name of these Curtiss-Wright divers, which hurl themselves straight out in the most breath-taking evolution ever invented. Famous Navy aviators and ships are seen in sensational "stunts" and Beery, himself a licensed aviator, personally flies in his role of veteran naval "C. P. O."
